

Allianz Consulting

Full-Time - Internal Management Consultant Allianz Consulting Asia

Allianz Consulting was established in 2004 as the internal consulting division of the Allianz Group. We now staff more than 250 consultants globally, aiming to be the consulting partner of choice for all Allianz entities.

We provide best-in-class business solutions along the whole consulting value chain – strategy, process & transformation, as well as implementation.

Our people come from diverse backgrounds, from within Allianz, from external consulting companies and a myriad of other industries. They possess a broad understanding of technical and general management expertise coupled with a sound understanding of the Allianz priorities, key initiatives and global insurance trends. With this knowledge and expertise we drive our clients' sustainable success in many international projects year after year.

Joining Allianz Consulting in Singapore means the opportunity to learn and grow together with other talented individuals who enjoy sharing their knowledge and expertise, having increased personal responsibilities and working under a flat management hierarchy. If you enjoy working in a diverse and success-oriented environment, then join us and be part of our team.

Job Roles & Responsibilities

- Complete assignments under the guidance/coaching of an Engagement Manager, including but not limited to project deadlines and deliverables, troubleshooting and problem resolution, conflict management, client and stakeholder management
- Analyze customer needs and develop innovative concepts to best serve them
- Contribute to pitches under the guidance of an Engagement Manager
- Anticipate future client needs that may lead to projects and raise them to the Engagement Manager
- Contribute to the development of Allianz Consulting through ownership and improvement of internal processes, as well as capability and business building activities

Key Requirements

- University Degree and/or comparable professional experience
- Fluent in spoken and written English
- Operational business and/ or consultancy experience (1-2 years)
- Experience in project/program management/PMO methods, techniques, and process development
- Basic experience in change management, quality management, integration and re-organization
- Conceptual and implementation experience in projects for any business areas
- Strong moderation, facilitation and presentation skills
- Willingness to be geographically mobile and ability to work in the region
- Basic insurance business knowledge (desirable)
- Ability to speak and read an Asian language fluently, e.g. Thai, Bahasa (desirable)
- International work experience (desirable)

Additional Information

Please submit your application (CV and 1 page Cover Letter) to: allianzconsulting.asia@allianz.com.sg with the subject header: AZC Asia FT Consultant Application