Position: Investment Banking Analyst
Company: Selby Jennings
Location: Singapore

Job Responsibilities
- Strong financial modelling background is needed to construct financial models, evaluate performance and analysing impact of different capital structures and potential transactions
- Perform valuation analysis, financial analysis using different methods e.g. DCF
- Prepare pitch books, presentation materials for client meetings and be involved in origination of deals from pitching to closing stages
- Be involved in origination, structuring and execution of M&A deals
- Due diligence and valuation analysis on corporates and assets over the Asia Pacific region
- No specific sector coverage
- Good stakeholder management and liaise with different teams, involvement in project management, execution - work with country level relationship teams, side by side with sector specialists
- Deliver holistic advice to clients

Job Requirements
- 1 – 2 years of experience in investment banking or advisory or M&A
- The candidate ideally has to have some prior work experience in investment banking, from a top tier name (preferred but not a must), or if you are a fresh graduate, you should have a good internship background within the investment banking field
- Strong work ethic and excellent attitude, independent and can perform without much supervision
- Analytical and numerate with basic accounting and finance knowledge
- Strong problem solving skills
- Detail oriented, highly motivated with a strong record of academic achievement
- Proficiency with MS Excel, MS Word, and MS PPT

Application
To apply, please submit your detailed resume to Ms Cherrie Lim of Selby Jennings at cherrie.lim@selbyjennings.com.

All resumes are kept strictly confidential and will not be sent out without your prior knowledge or consent. Only shortlisted applicants will be notified.